Cycle of Continuous Improvement

Twin Rivers Unified School District: Inspiring each student to extraordinary achievement every day!

After school programs can boost academic performance; reduce risky behaviors, promote physical health, and provide a safe, structured environment for the children of working parents.

Attending after school programs can improve students' academic performance. A national evaluation found that over 40% of students attending 21st Century Community Learning Center programs improved their reading and math grades, and that those who attending more regularly were more likely to make gains (Naftzger et.al.,2007)

Effective Afterschool programs can improve classroom behavior (Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, 2010) school attendance, academic aspirations, and can reduce the likelihood that a student will drop out (Huang, Leon, La Torre, Mostafavi, 2008)

Participation in after school programs has been associated with reduced drug use (Investing in Our Young People, University of Chicago, 2006) and criminal behavior (UCLA National Center for Research and Evaluation, Standards and Student Testing, 2007).

Afterschool programs can play an important role in encouraging physical activity and good dietary habits. Participation in afterschool programs has been associated with positive health outcomes, including reduced obesity (Mahoney,J., Lord, H., & Carryl, 2005).
