PREPARING FOR CONGRESS

Serve as a Member of Congress

Can you protect your bill from amendments that might lessen its impact? Should you compromise to gain support or should you hold and try to persuade others your bill is perfect as is? Members of Congress face such questions every day, and now it's your turn. At Congress 2020, as either a Senator or a member of the House of Representatives, you will experience the inner workings of the U.S. Congress firsthand.

Write Legislation

Students' participation in Congress 2020 starts before the convention begins, as students work in teams to research and write legislation. Students select an issue they really care about and determine how Congress can use its powers to change the law.

Every chapter must submit one bill for every five delegates attending the convention. All bills must be submitted by the early registration deadline. Many bills received will be placed on the bill docket for consideration at Winter Congress. More information about bill writing will be sent out in December.

Committee Action and Mark-up

At the convention, students are assigned to committees where all the legislation is discussed and marked up. Amendments are made and language is clarified while the students learn the art of compromise to earn the committee votes needed to send their legislation the floor of the House or Senate.

Floor Debate

Public speaking skills are emphasized as the sponsors of the legislation that passed in committee take the podium in the full House and Senate sessions. The chambers are always packed as supporters and opponents of each bill get a chance to speak and persuade the members to support their position. Students will have the chance to speak out on the most pressing issues facing our nation today.

Convention Overview

- Saturday, Day 1 – House and Senate Committee Hearings
 - Each student is assigned to a House or Senate committee that meets to consider bills. A student chairs each committee, assisted by a clerk. All bills passed by both a House and Senate committee are placed on the docket for Sunday.
- Sunday, Day 2 – Full House and Senate Floor Sessions
 - Students meet in full sessions of the Senate and House of Representatives to debate the bills which passed in both their House and Senate committees. A student will serve as the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and another will serve as the Speaker of the House of Representatives.
