Public Comments:

Joy Addison, a retired educator and active member of the Social Justice Group of St. Bartholomew's, spoke to the need for a school in the North Central area. She passed on a copy of the remarks made in 2014 when they advocated for a school in the area. She noted that she believes that students in North Central should have the same choice for a neighborhood as other students do, especially for second language learners with academic needs that have started in the Preschool program there. She encouraged the Board to ask the community to share the type of school they want. She appreciated the District reaching out and inviting community partners to communicate and coordinate services.
