- Trustee Shulman attended the School Board Candidate Forum. He also attended a movie put on by the County Office of Ed called “Raising of America” about childcare. It was part 1 about the very early days of childcare and was held at Cabrillo. The Q&A was very interesting.

F. SUPERINTENDENT’S REPORT

- Superintendent Krause said she there were some key events since our last Board meeting. The Initial Government Affairs Committee meeting was held which was hosted by the SV Chamber of Commerce. That committee includes Jenny Haruyama, the City Manager, Supervisor Bruce McPherson, the SVPD, the SV Fire Chief, the Chamber staff, the SV Water Board, and SVHS Student Officers. They discussed how they could work together to improve communication and collaboration. Some of the committee members have homework to do and they are returning in February to reconvene and take the next steps. Friday, October 14th, was SV Homecoming. She attended the Pep Rally where there was very positive and great energy. There was a lot of student and staff participation and involvement and parents and community members were in attendance. That night she attended the wet and soggy Homecoming Game. She got to experience first-hand the wet track and field and she agrees we need to improve that situation. She did a shout-out to Coach Walters and the team as they were very polite and demonstrated great sportsmanship. They had a resounding victory that night. Ann Codiga was crowned Homecoming Queen. She met with Donna Zeal, a Cabrillo Board Member, representing SLV and SV. They discussed how they could collaborate and work together in the future. She met with our SVEA President Molly McQuestion and our lead negotiator John Magliato to review the Collective Bargaining update. She met with Kristen Ard of Parks and Rec to discuss working in partnership with the City and give a facelift to the wall mural in Siltanen Park. Emily Brandt, a teacher at the High School has agreed to help us with that and have K-12 students be able to participate in updating that mural. She met with Eric Wyner and Noah, a student, who is helping oversee the SVHS Haunted House. They walked her through all the history of the Haunted House and all of the work they have done since last year’s Haunted House and what goes on behind the scenes. She wants to encourage folks to please attend and participate. The Haunted House is this Thursday through Saturday. The profits get donated every year to a nonprofit and again this year the donations go to the Leukemia Foundation. She visited with the Student Government Class at SVHS. They discussed what they like about Scotts Valley High School and gave suggestions to her on some improvements they would like to see. Some of the positive things they shared were their academic and Student Government class, the accepting environment of the High School, the student-teacher relationships, and the welcoming feeling from the work that they have done over the last couple of years to create that welcoming feeling for students. Some of the areas they would like us to focus on are more courses for non-IB students, more class choices, and improved facilities, particularly the track and field. They talked about how SVHS could bring ideas to the Government Relations Committee. They also discussed a Career Fair and bringing a panel of professionals to present on their career trajectory and the experiences they have had in reaching their goals.. She truly enjoyed her time with the class and looks forward to being able to return and hear more from them. She attended the School Board Forum. Almost on a daily basis they continue to meet about the SVMS project. Along with many in the District, she attended the Red Ribbon Week BBQ hosted by the SVPD in preparation for this week's acknowledgement of Red Ribbon Week. She gave a shout-out to Vine Hill and Brook Knoll, as was written about in the Press Banner. They got their Rave and Fave Awards for public schools. She wants to acknowledge these schools for doing a great job and thanked the community for their support.
