2017-20 Plan Summary

School's STORY

Briefly describe the students and community and how the school serves them.

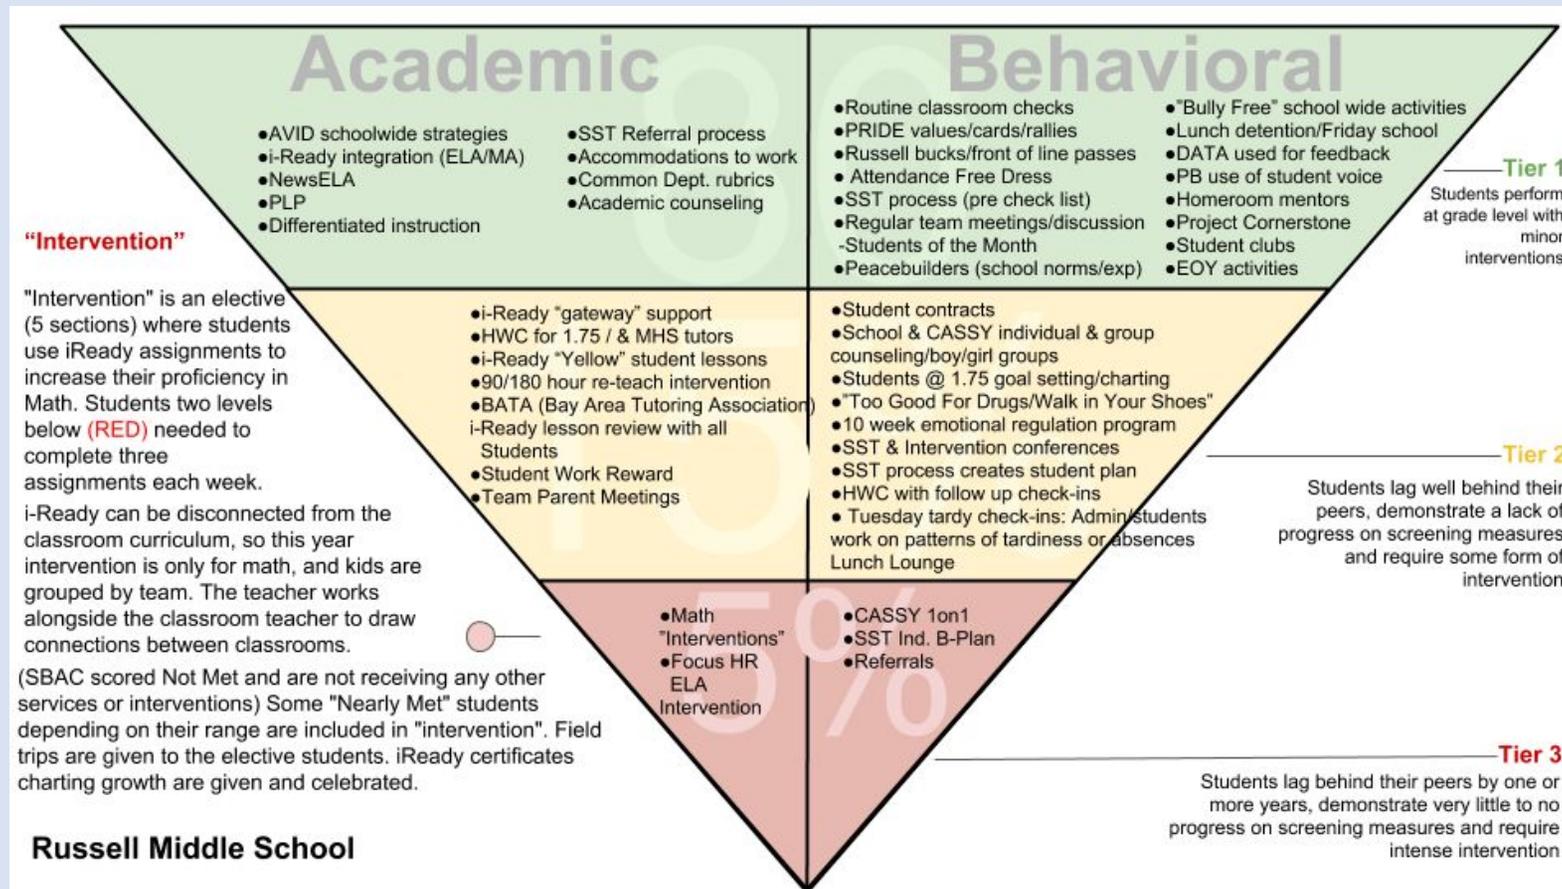

Thomas Russell Middle School (TRMS) is an exemplary member of the Milpitas Unified School District and owes its success to the commitment of all stakeholders in creating a safe haven for learning. TRMS is a safe and welcoming environment where all students are valued, challenged, and successful. Nestled in the foothills just north of San Jose, California, our demography represents the city of Milpitas. On May 7, 2018, the population reflected 791 students grade students (395 seventh graders and 396 eighth graders). The ethnic makeup consisted of: 52% Asian, 18% Filipino, 16% Hispanic/Latino, 4% White, 2% African-American, 0.38% American Indian/Alaskan Native, 1% Hawaiian or Pacific Islander, and 6% multiple races. Approximately 35% of students are socioeconomically disadvantaged, 18% are English learners, and 10% are in special education. To educate these students effectively, TRMS created a vision statement to help guide the work that is accomplished each year.

TRMS students will be inspired, nurtured, and well-rounded, critical thinkers who are prepared to be successful contributors to the world. To do this, TRMS has created a mission which is to provide rigorous, integrated, differentiated education with PRIDE. The acronym PRIDE relates to our school's core values. The Russell community encourages students to strive through challenges when it is hard. In doing this, students build the grit needed to overcome academic challenges. To support students through this, students are placed into interdisciplinary teams to ensure that students are provided with smaller learning environments. Through our work as a Peacebuilder School, our students are taught the following: appreciate the value of yourself, others, and the world through words, actions, and attitude. An example of this is evident in the Russell PRIDE Program, which gathers the students and staff into an engaging team-building experience in order to recognize the academic achievement and improvement of students. Our school prides itself in the ample opportunities that students have to collaborate with one another. To help establish authentic trust in collaborative groups, staff enforces the tenant be truthful, fair, and trustworthy in your words and actions. The academic curriculum at TRMS is indeed rigorous, and our students are always encouraged to put forth their best effort in all they do. There are times when learning is revisited due to a lack of understanding. The expectation is that whenever there is learning that students aim for high expectations for their work. Once a year, students present a snapshot of their journey in the form of an electronic portfolio at their student-led conferences. This activity captures the reflective environment that Russell exudes. A part of this reflection and input gathering occurs through cycle of meetings, such as the School Site Council, Staff/Department, Associated Student Body, and parent meetings.

SPSA HIGHLIGHTS

Identify and briefly summarize the key features of this year's SPSA.

The purpose of the 2018-19 Single Plan for Student Achievement is to improve academic performance in English-language arts and mathematics as measured by the final district benchmark. In addition, it ensures that Low Income, English learner, and Students with Disabilities will improve at an accelerated rate. TRMS also has created safety nets that support all students through targeted and personalized instruction while supporting students' social and emotional needs. ELA and MA staff meet monthly to reflect on achievement data and ensure that best practices are being delivered to students.

Key features of our SPSA include academic support that we will provide to our students as well as the social-emotional support that is needed for adolescents to be successful in middle school. Through our Tiered Intervention Pyramid Provided we aim to support our students at TRMS.

Some highlights from our Multi-Tiered Intervention include providing an intervention class for students in the area of math, providing support counseling services for students, and providing professional development.

REVIEW OF PERFORMANCE

Based on a review of performance on the state indicators and local performance indicators included in the LCFF Accountability Dashboard, progress toward goals, local self-assessment tools, stakeholder input, or other information, what progress is the school most proud of and how does the school plan to maintain or build upon that success? This may include identifying any specific examples of how past increases or improvements in services for low-income students, English learners, and foster youth have led to improved performance for these students.

The Fall 2017 TRMS dashboard data reflects an overall positive performance in the total school in the areas of English Language Arts, Mathematics, and Suspension Rate. The school continues to offer a rigorous, personalized learning experience for students in the areas of English, math, science, and social studies. The Suspension Rate is acceptable, and school efforts on creating a positive school climate, through education, modeling, and incentives is supporting these efforts.

TRMS encourages students to attend school through praise and incentives as part of the Russell PRIDE Program. Staff is pleased to see a low percentage of students considered chronically absent. And while we want all students present at school when able, we are several percentage points lower than the district, county, and state report. We will continue to use our communication with students, parents, and PRIDE program to decrease chronic absenteeism.

The CDE applies standard rounding rules to Status and Change. These values are rounded to the nearest tenth before they are displayed throughout the Dashboard and the Five-by-Five Placement Report. However, Change is calculated using the non-rounded values. Therefore, LEAs and schools should not use the rounded Status values to calculate Change, because it could result in a different performance level (color) than what is reported on the Dashboard Web site.

The school placement is at a blue level, indicating that overall students are performing at a very high level in English language arts. Russell credits this growth to the work of a blended approach to teaching English. Teachers personalize English instruction, so students spend more time on the areas of need, such a reading and writing through a hosts of projects and activities in both English and social studies. Based on the data table above, five of the seven student groups performed at a high level in English language arts. These groups are White, Asian, Filipino, English Learners, and Socioeconomically Disadvantaged. Students with Disabilities made significant growth but are still scored lower than the aforementioned student groups. Hispanic/Latino students maintained their growth but also are lower than the other student groups.

Overall students are performing at a very high level in math and showing steady increases. Russell credits this growth to a blended approach to mathematics instruction, which includes direction instruction from the teacher, guided practice through collaboration, online support for students, and varied opportunities to deepen conceptual and practical understanding of mathematics through performance tasks. These performance tasks allow students to apply their learning and assert their findings through mathematical justification. Based on the data table above, Hispanic, English Learners, Socioeconomically Disadvantaged, White, Filipino, and Asian student groups performed at a high level in mathematics. Hispanic/Latino students were recognized by a green color for making gains in achievement. Students with Disabilities did not perform at a high level but did increase their growth in mathematics significantly from 2016-2017.

Referring to the LCFF Accountability Dashboard, identify any state indicator or local performance indicator for which overall performance was in the “Red” or “Orange” or “Yellow” performance category or where the school received a “Not Met” or “Not Met for Two or More Years” rating. Additionally, identify any areas that the school has determined need significant improvement based on review of local performance indicators or other local indicators. What steps is the school planning to take to address these areas with the greatest need for improvement?

What are the indicators that are yellow, orange, or red? What practices will help with this?

1. Suspension Rate: English Learners and Hispanic/Latino students were detailed orange in the Spring of 2017. Hispanic/Latino students are reported as yellow for Fall 2017 and have maintained the percentage of suspensions for this student group. English Learners continue to be at the orange level with an increase in the number of suspensions from the previous year. To address this, school administration will provide more opportunities to educate students about making inappropriate choices. Through the PRIDE program, which promotes a positive school culture, students and families are reminded of the school expectations and consequences for violating them. This Positive Behavior Intervention Model allows for more opportunities to address the behavior. Additionally, more Friday School sessions will be provided to reduce the number of students being referred for suspension. TRMS will also work with guidance counselor and CASSY therapist to support students in need.

GREATEST NEEDS

- English Learner Progress: English Learner Progress declined significantly from 2016 to 2017. According to the dashboard, 100% of students in 2016 made progress towards English proficiency. This is a significant increase from the 86.5% of 2015. In 2017, 86.8% of students made progress toward English proficiency. While this percentage is lower than the previous percentage, it seems to be more reliable based on the results of 2015. Efforts will be made to continue to offer a robust English Learner program. This will include a sheltered English Language Arts class for English Learners levels 1 and 2 as well as three sections of English Language Development for all English Learners with the exception of English Learners in Special Education, unless designated in their IEPs. Teaching staff will continue to support students by bringing a solid curriculum with the help of iLit and i-Ready online lessons as well as provide multiple opportunities for student interaction and oral language practice. In addition, English Learners will be placed on the same team to increase the number of ELD strategies in the classroom and provide closer academic monitoring.

3. English Language Arts (3-8): Hispanic/Latino students and Students with Disabilities were detailed yellow in 2016 and 2017. The Students with Disabilities show growth but still are below the threshold of the majority of students. The Hispanic/Latino students also are detailed as yellow and maintained from 2016 to 2017. For students to increase at a more rapid rate, English language arts and social Studies teachers should continue to offer reading and writing opportunities for students to practice skills and refine them. Targeted intervention will be provided during homework center time to support students not meeting grade level as well as creating a support section for students in English as an elective. Additionally, every trimester English and social studies teachers will come together to complete the ROCI. This cycle will target the students in this group and ensure that accelerated achievement is occurring in the classroom by looking at student work samples, aligning benchmarks and analyzing data.

4. Mathematics (3-8): On the Spring 2017 Dashboard, Hispanic/Latino students were detailed yellow, and on the Fall 2017 Dashboard, Hispanic/Latino students were detailed green. To support these students, math teachers will continue to offer personalized learning approaches so that each student with a disability can increase skill based on the individual level. During the homework center, targeted intervention will be provided to support this student group to ensure that greater progress occurs in the future. Additionally, every trimester math teachers will come together to complete the ROCI. This cycle will target the students in this group and ensure that accelerated achievement is occurring in the classroom. Students with Disabilities were detailed yellow, but they did show significant growth from the previous year. Special Education staff will continue to ensure that academic IEP goals are being reached and are aligned to the common core content.

Performance Gaps exist in the areas of suspension, English-language arts, and mathematics for the following student groups: English Learners, Hispanic/Latinos, and Students with Disabilities. To address these, members of the staff, community, and students were involved in dialogue about how to better serve our students. From that, input was provided into this Single Plan for Student Achievement. Specific strategies are outlined in this plan, and some activities were previously mentioned in the section above.

With both a classroom teacher and a paraprofessional present daily, more students' needs can be addressed during the class period. All students have access to the homework center, which has increased the number of hours of daily operation to 3 hours to support students. Chromebooks were purchased for the ELD classroom and other core class classrooms to ensure that students had access to key learning tools and resources, such as i-Ready, iLit, No Red Ink, Newsela, Personalized Learning, Khan Academy, etc. Funds also support ROCI release days to target instructional needs and data analysis for supplemental students. English, math, science, and social studies teachers will each receive 2 days of release per 12 weeks to work through this cycle of inquiry.

INVOLVEMENT PROCESS FOR SPSA AND ANNUAL UPDATE

How, when, and with whom did the School consult as part of the planning process for this SPSA/Annual Review and Analysis?

The SPSA 2017-18 update to the 2017-20 is reviewed by the School Site Council at the start of each year and juxtaposed with the achievement data from the previous year. At that time, School Site Council Members are able to interpret data and ask questions of school personnel.
